RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT POLICY

INTRODUCTION & PHILOSOPHY

Barrow Hanley's policy for responsible investing provides a framework and the guiding principles for responsible investment practices, including the integration of environmental, social, and governance ("ESG") factors that align with the firm's fiduciary responsibility and its purpose to pursue superior risk-adjusted returns on behalf of its clients.

Barrow Hanley has a track record of more than 30 years of managing socially-responsible mandates and employing ESG factors in its analysis for the construction of equity and fixed income portfolios. Barrow Hanley currently manages more than $4 billion in Socially Responsible Investing ("SRI") related assets and "negatively screened" portfolios for clients with specific restrictions and guidelines.

In addition to this expertise and stewardship, Barrow Hanley employs heightened active ownership, and creates a unique opportunity in the market. With our reputation as a large and long-term shareholder, Barrow Hanley values the opportunity to partner with these companies and engage with executives on ESG-related issues.

Barrow Hanley's APPROACH TO RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT

Barrow Hanley is proud to be a signatory to the United Nations-supported Principles for Responsible Investment ("PRI") and the Investor Stewardship Group ("ISG"). The firm's approach to responsible investing is underpinned by its Guiding Principles for Responsible Investment and the key elements of the PRI and ISG.

Barrow Hanley believes that the consideration of material ESG factors in its investment process aligns with the pursuit of superior risk-adjusted returns for its clients and their beneficiaries. Responsible investing makes sound business sense and, as an advocate for the firm's clients and the long-term future of their beneficiaries, Barrow Hanley believes it is also the right thing to do.

The firm's ESG approach includes integrating ESG factors into its research and valuation analysis, internally communicating key ESG issues and third-party ratings, and holding a company's board and management accountable through dialogue and proxy voting. In addition to third-party ratings, Barrow Hanley has created its own proprietary ESG Composite Score, which builds on the analysts' scores for each E, S, and G pillar. These values are then married to other third-party ESG scores to create a more robust and unique ranking methodology.

Barrow Hanley's Responsible Investing Committee ("RIC") is mandated to oversee the firm's approach to responsible investing. The RIC is led by the Director of Responsible Investing and reports to the Executive Committee of the firm. The RIC reviews Barrow Hanley's ESG and Proxy Guidelines on an annual basis to adapt the policies to new developments and to incorporate previous engagements.

Barrow Hanley's GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR RESPONSIBLE INVESTMENT

Barrow Hanley's guiding principles for responsible investment practices are as follows:

- 1. A commitment to consider material environmental, social, and governance factors throughout the investment decision-making process. Barrow Hanley seeks to identify and focus on key ESG factors that presently, or at some point in the future, may materially impact the long-term value of the company. Barrow Hanley incorporates the consideration of relevant material ESG factors into its investment management practices in a manner that is consistent with the investment philosophy, process, and client mandate.
- 2. A commitment to be a responsible steward of the assets of the firm's clients. Barrow Hanley takes its responsibility as a discretionary manager for shareholders seriously. The firm aims to ensure that the management teams of investee companies (issuers) are accountable for company performance and conduct. Barrow Hanley acts as a responsible steward of its clients' assets, maintains and updates its Proxy Voting Policy as required, votes proxies in a manner that is consistent with the proxy policy and specific client guidelines, and engages company boards and management teams to facilitate change that the firm believes will enhance long-term shareholder value.
- 3. A commitment to take a leadership role with regard to responsible investment. Barrow Hanley is mindful of its role within the broader investment community and seeks opportunities to play a leadership role regarding responsible investing, where appropriate. This may include, but is not limited to, working with regulators and/or industry groups on responsible-investment-related issues, supporting academic work in the field of responsible investing, and engaging with third-party rating agencies on ESG issues.
- 4. A commitment to transparency and disclosure on how the firm integrates ESG factors into its investment analysis. Barrow Hanley provides relevant information about the process of integrating the consideration and analysis of ESG factors into the firm's investment research and security selection process to its stakeholders. Through Barrow Hanley's advocacy on behalf of its client partners, the firm seeks to positively impact long-term investment outcomes. Barrow Hanley also seeks to report the outcomes of its advocacy in a transparent manner to its stakeholders. Additional information, reports, and investment analysis for specific company investments are available upon request.

ESG INTEGRATION

Because Barrow Hanley's research process focuses on both sides of a company's balance sheet – equity and debt – and is conducted by its equity and fixed income professionals working together as a single team, Barrow Hanley is uniquely able to effectively integrate the consideration of ESG factors in both its stock and bond portfolios and to produce additional economic "value" for the firm's clients. While Barrow Hanley utilizes ESG research and rankings from third-party providers, the firm's experienced internal investment team analyzes all relevant ESG inputs and reaches reasoned conclusions on an independent basis.

To be effective at ESG investing, a patient, long-term investment horizon is required and the low turnover approach of Barrow Hanley's investment process over the past 40+ years has proven to be well suited for sustainable portfolios. The long-term focus of Barrow Hanley's investment process further enhances its ability to be a responsible steward of its clients' assets.

ACTIVE OWNERSHIP & ENGAGEMENT

Engagement involves holding companies accountable for performance and conduct and, when necessary, facilitating change that will have a positive long-term effect on shareholder value. Individual and/or collective collaboration efforts are options when dealing with a given company (issuer). Given the depth of Barrow Hanley's exposure to company managements, the firm treats material factors seriously and endeavors to partner with investee companies to find constructive resolutions.

Barrow Hanley monitors emerging trends in both successful and unsuccessful engagements, and the firm may opt to escalate unsuccessful management engagements to the board-of-director level or may even consider divestment as a last resort.

PROXY VOTING POLICY

Barrow Hanley has the responsibility to vote proxies for equity securities for its clients who have delegated this responsibility to the firm, and under Barrow Hanley's fiduciary duty, the firm's policy is to vote its clients' proxies in the best economic interests of its clients, the beneficial owners of the shares. Barrow Hanley maintains written procedures for the handling of research, voting, and reporting of proxy votes, and makes appropriate disclosures about proxy voting on behalf of its clients. Disclosure information about the firm's proxy voting process is provided in Barrow Hanley's Form ADV Part 2.

To assist in the proxy voting process, Barrow Hanley retains the services of Glass Lewis & Co. Glass Lewis provides:

- Research on corporate governance, financial statements, business, legal, and accounting risks;
- Proxy voting recommendations, including ESG voting guidelines;
- Portfolio accounting and reconciliation of shareholdings for voting purposes;
- Proxy voting execution, record keeping, and reporting services.

Proxy Oversight Committee, Proxy Coordinators, and Proxy Voting Committee

- Barrow Hanley's Proxy Oversight Committee ("POC") is responsible for implementing and monitoring the firm's proxy voting policy, procedures, disclosures, and recordkeeping, including outlining the voting guidelines in the firm's procedures. The POC conducts periodic reviews to monitor and ensure that the firm's policy is observed, implemented properly, and amended or updated as appropriate. The POC is made up of the Chief Compliance Officer/Chief Risk Officer, the Responsible Investing Committee lead, the Director of Investment Operations, the ESG Research Coordinator, and an at-large portfolio manager.
- Barrow Hanley's proxy coordinators review and organize the data and recommendations provided by the proxy service. The proxy coordinators are responsible for ensuring that the proxy ballots are routed to the appropriate research analyst based on industry sector coverage. Proxy coordinators are assigned from the operations department.
- Barrow Hanley's research analysts review and evaluate proxy proposals and make written recommendations to the Proxy Voting Committee to ensure that votes are consistent with the firm's analysis and are in the best interests of the shareholders, Barrow Hanley's clients.
- Barrow Hanley's equity portfolio managers are members of the Proxy Voting Committee. Equity portfolio managers vote proxy proposals based on share ownership after considering Barrow Hanley's Proxy Voting Guidelines, internal research recommendations, and the opinion of Glass Lewis. Proxy votes must be approved by the Proxy Voting Committee before the votes are submitted to the proxy service provider.
- Proxy voting for the Diversified Small Cap Value accounts is done in accordance with the proxy service provider's recommendations for the following reasons:
 - Investments are based on a quantitative model. Fundamental research is not performed on the holdings;
 - The holding period is too short to justify the time required to analyze the vote.

Conflicts of Interest

- Potential conflicts may arise when Barrow Hanley invests in equity securities of corporations that are also clients of the firm. Barrow Hanley seeks to mitigate potential conflicts by:
 - Making voting decisions for the benefit of the shareholders, Barrow Hanley's clients;

- Uniformly voting every proxy based on Barrow Hanley’s internal research and consideration of Glass Lewis’ recommendations; and
 - Documenting the votes of companies that are also clients of the firm.
- If a material conflict of interest exists, members from the Proxy Voting and Oversight Committees will determine if the affected clients should have an opportunity to vote their proxies themselves, or whether Barrow Hanley will address the specific voting issue through other objective means, such as voting the proxies in a manner that is consistent with a predetermined voting policy or accepting the voting recommendations of Glass Lewis.

Other Policies and Procedures

- Barrow Hanley sends a daily electronic transfer of equity positions to the proxy service provider.
- The proxy service provider identifies accounts that are eligible to vote for each security and posts the proposals and research on its secure, proprietary online system.
- Barrow Hanley sends a proxy report to clients at least annually (or as requested by the client), listing the number of shares voted and disclosing how proxies were voted.
- Voting records are retained on the network, which is backed up daily. The proxy service provider retains records for seven years.
- The proxy coordinators retain the following proxy records for at least seven years:
 - Policies and procedures and any amendments;
 - Proxy statements received regarding the securities of the firm’s clients
 - A record of each proxy that was voted;
 - Proxy voting reports that are sent to clients annually;
 - Any document that Barrow Hanley created that was material to making a decision on how to vote proxies, or that memorializes that decision; and
 - Records of a client’s request for proxy voting information.

Voting Debt and/or Bank Loan Securities

Barrow Hanley has the responsibility to vote proxies and related interests for its clients who have delegated this responsibility to the firm, which may include voting on proposals, amendments, consents, or resolutions solicited by, or in respect to, the issuers of securities, including bank loan debt instruments. Barrow Hanley votes proxies and related interests in the best interest of the securities’ owners, its clients.
